DATE:

SUBJECT:

Appeal of the Development Officer's decision to approve an application for a Variance at 1747 Rosebank Ave, Halifax

STAFF REPORT

ORIGIN

This report deals with an appeal of the Development Officer's decision to approve a variance of the gross floor area and a left side setback reduction for a single unit dwelling at 1747 Rosebank Ave, Halifax

RECOMMENDATION

It is recommended that Council uphold the Development Officer's decision to approve the variance.

BACKGROUND

Zoning:

The property is zoned R-1, Single Family Dwelling Zone under the Land Use By-Law for Halifax Peninsula, the secondary plan is Peninsula Centre.

Existing Use:

The current use of the property is a single family dwelling. The lot area is approximately 6, 180 square feet. The existing dwelling does not exceed the gross floor area maximum which is 3,399 square feet.

Proposal:

The owner of the property wishes to build an addition to the side and rear of the existing dwelling. This addition is for a staircase, family room, recreation room and to increase the size of the master bedroom. The proposal did not meet two of the Land Use By-Law criteria, a) gross floor area and b) side yard setback.

A Variance was requested to increase the gross floor area of the dwelling to 3, 853.93 square feet which is 454.93 square feet above the allowable floor area. In addition, a reduction to the left side setback was requested. The required setback is 10% of the lot frontage which is 5.1 feet. The owner is requesting a reduced setback of 4.2 feet.

DISCUSSION

The Halifax Regional Municipality Charter sets out criteria in part 250(3)under which the Development Officer may consider variances to Land Use Bylaw requirements. The criteria are as follows:

"A variance may not be granted where the:

- (a) variance violates the intent of the land use bylaw;
- (b) difficulty experienced is general to the properties in the area;
- (c) difficulty experienced results from an intentional disregard for the requirements of the land use bylaw."

In order to be approved, the proposed Variance must not conflict with any of the above statutory criteria. An assessment of the proposal relative to these stipulations is set out below.

Does the proposed variance violate the intent of the land use bylaw?

- The Land Use Bylaw sets out standards relative to required yards, street frontage, lot area and lot coverage for residential, commercial and industrial use.
- The intent of the gross floor area is to control dwellings containing an excessive number of bedrooms and large dwellings on small lots.

- The gross floor area allowed is 3,399 square feet, the variance requested is 3,853.93 square feet.
- There are no additional bedrooms proposed and the gross floor area appears to be consistent with nearby properties.
- The required left side setback is 5.1 (10% percent of the frontage) The variance requested is 4.2 which is less than 1 foot and equals a 8.2% setback.
- It is not felt that either request violates the intent of the land use by-law

Is the difficulty experienced general to the properties in the area?

- A portion of the addition contains a side staircase. The owner has indicated they are constructing a new staircase because the existing stairs are very steep. They have also indicated that there have been accidents where people have fallen down the stairs and for safety reasons they would like to move the stairs to the left side of the house.
- The Development Officer feels that this is a unique circumstance which is not general to the properties in the area.

Is the difficulty experienced the result of intentional disregard for the requirements of the land use bylaw?

The property owner has applied for the necessary permits and Variance request. No construction has started and it is not felt that this results in intentional disregard for the requirements of the land use by-law.

In summary, staff carefully reviewed all the relevant information in this case. As a result of that review, the Variance was approved as it was determined not to be contrary to the provisions of the Halifax Charter.

As per the requirements outlined in the Halifax Charter, all property owners have been notified within 30 meters. One appeal was received (Attachment 3). The appeal letter indicates that they have concerns for safety, privacy and peace and enjoyment of their property. Also there is a concern raised about the property line survey. A location certificate was provided by the owner in order to clarify this concern.

BUDGET IMPLICATIONS

None.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT POLICIES/BUSINESS PLAN

This report complies with the Municipality's Multi-Year Financial Strategy, the approved Operating, Project and Reserve budgets, policies and procedures regarding withdrawals from the utilization of Project and Operating reserves, as well as any relevant legislation.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

The procedure for public notification is mandated by the HRM Charter. If the Variance request is appealed a public hearing is held which is the opportunity for residents (within 30 meters) to speak to staff's recommendation.

ALTERNATIVES

- 1. Council could uphold the decision of the Development Officer to approve the Variance. This is the recommended alternative.
- 2. Council could overturn the decision of the Development Officer and refuse the Variance request.

Re: Variance Application # 16265, 1747 Rosebank Ave, Halifax, NS

As property owners for 1751 Rosebank Ave., the adjoining property to 1747 Rosebank Avenue, we hereby wish to appeal the variance from the requirement of the land use bylaw approved by the Development Officer for the applicants Geoffrey Goss and Joyce McCormack.

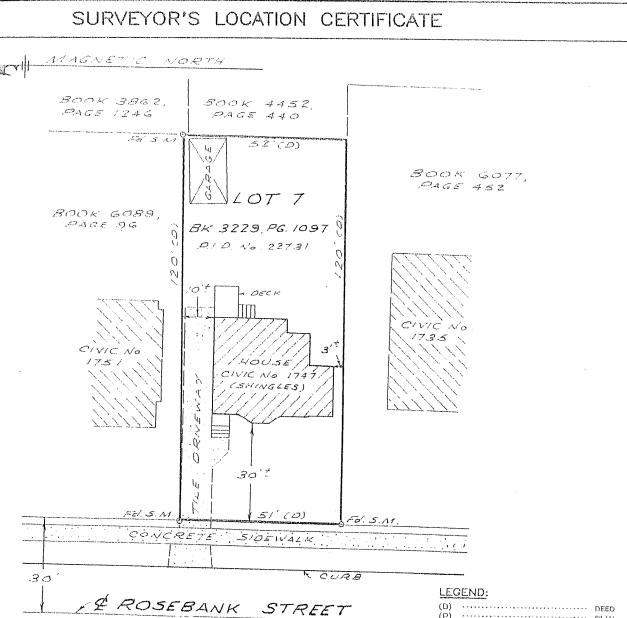

We feel the variance would negatively affect the safety, privacy, peace and enjoyment of our property. In addition given the age of the properties we are not confident the property lines are, or have been adequately surveyed to assure the addition is constructed in accordance with municipal land use bylaws.

If you have any questions or require further clarification please contact Andrew Ritcey at 477-1902.

Sincerely.

Andrew G. Ritcey
