WATER RATES DRY DOCK.

Chairman Board of Works:

Sr.,—In the matter of supply to the Dry Dock, the water rates was fixed in 1888, at $500.00 per annum. The Company refused to pay it, and a meter was put on in September, 1891. The Company is paying by meter about $200.00 a year. It is difficult to say at this date, what amount of water was used previous to September, 1891. I am of the opinion that a great deal more water was used then than now. However, it cannot be determined, and to settle the matter, I would suggest that the back rates unpaid to be made up at the rate of $200.00 a year.

F. W. W. DOANE, City Engineer.

NOVEMBER 8th, 1893.

The Board of Assessors is the foundation of the entire civic financial edifice. A keen knowledge of the value of real estate, its increase in districts made valuable by growing trade or settlement, sewers, side-walks, lights, improved streets, etc., of the existence and value of personal property and the placing of a just and fair valuation thereon, is essential on the part of the assessors. Having determined the value of real estate, and estimated the amount and worth of the stocks of business men and furniture and other personal property, and having thus equitably and justly determined the amount of taxes to be contributed by each citizen (and which for the current year aggregates over $425,000, including water) the next most important step is the collection of these taxes. The corporation requires the money promptly and places most autocratic power in the hands of the collector to enforce payment; but the combination of judiciousness and energy characteristic of the officials, makes the exercise of extreme measures rarely necessary.

We made a very careful investigation of the books of, the collector. The system, devised and inaugurated by ex-Mayor Mackintosh, can scarcely be improved upon. From the assessment books and bills made by the assessors the collector's ledger is made up. The bills, 5,300 in number, are distributed by the four sub-collectors. When the tax is paid a receipt (and generally a new account is made out) is given from a receipt book. From the stub the amount is posted into the cash book and thence into the ledger, and the entry in the assessment book is also marked paid. So that besides the receipt given the sum paid is entered in four different books, and thorougnly checked and regularly audited and certified by the auditor. The cash book is balanced daily and the sum collected paid over to the treasurer and his receipt taken therefor. A complete new set of books are opened each year, and the ledger commences with over 5,000 separate accounts.

The assessment books are made up to the 15th March, are sworn to and cannot be changed after that. But frequently "special assessments" are levied on people doing business transiently. The "special assessments" are entered by the chief assessor, and the taxes collected credited in a special column and duly audited as in the ordinary accounts.

Interest at 6 per cent. is charged on overdue taxes. This item, like special assessments, caunot be estimated, and its imposition must obviously be largely left to the discretion of the officials. The amount collected is entered in a special column, and is also regularly andited. For seven years the amount collected for interest on overdue taxes was $7,630.45.

The duty of collecting sewerage rates and amounts owing by citizens for sidewalk improvements, etc., formerly received by the Board of Works is now imposed on the collector. This has become an important matter and necessitates the keeping of special ledgers and cash books. Sewerage rates are charged as soon as the 'sewer is built, at $1.25 per foot frontage, and is secured by lien. Citizens may pay the full assessment, or extend the payments over a period of ten years with 6 per cent interest. Nine-tenths take advantage of this provision. The amounts already collectable under this law, and bearing interest, aggregates $100,000 as follows :

| | 1888 | $ 9,307 | |
|-----------|------|----------|--|
| | 1889 | 4,726 | |
| | 1890 | 14,698 | |
| | 1891 | 24,723 | |
| | 1892 | 20,512 | |
| Estimated | 1893 | 26,000 | |
| | | | |

F

Total $99,966

Of this $20,481, and interest $2,540, had been collected, up to the 31st December, 1892, and has been collected this year, leaving, say, $ to be collected. About $7,500 is also collectable on pavement accounts. The keeping of over 1,500 sewer and pavement accounts in special ledgers, rendering 1,500 bills annually, and collecting the same, involves a large amount of extra labour.

THE WATER RATES.

The water rates, $72,000, are collected by the City Collector, but the accounts are made out and the ledger and cash book kept by W. L. Brown, clerk of the water department.

The engineer furnishes a statement of all houses and properties using water. From this Mr. Brown makes up a ledger, and, except in special cases, the amount to be collected for water is determined by the assessed value of the property, which amount is fixed by the assessors. When this is done the accounts are entered up and classified by Mr. Brown and the bills made out. There are 3.308 separate accounts in the ledger. involving 4,700 separate entries, and as the bills are made out half yearly, 6,616 bills are made out. A monthly statement of all tax and water collections in detail is furnished to the Council, certified by the auditor.

THE CLERK OF LICENSES.

The Clerk of Licenses, though in the Collec or's office, is a head of a department himself, and keeps a special set of books of his own. He collects license fees for hacks, cabs, trucks, plumbers, hawkers and peddlers, marine and junk, auctioneers, night carts, bumboat men, etc. The items are entered in different pages in the cash book instead of on one page and in separate columns. The accounts for 1892-3 had not been balanced in June. There had been no audit of the receipt stub to show that the collections had been posted into the cash book, though the treasurer's receipts were checked by the auditor. The collections are paid to the treasurer when $200 or $300 have accumulated. They should be paid over weekly. There is nothing to show what common rents are collectable except "Morris' old books." The clerk merely receives the license fees and issues (but does not sign) the licenses. He depends on the police to see that trnckmen, etc., have licenses. When absent from the office, the water clerk or collector act as deputy clerk of license.

When not employed in clerk of license work, Mr. Rhind assists the collector and devotes special attention to the sewer and sidewalk ledgers, for which work he has good qualifications. His license collections last year were as follows :

| 70 | Hack licenses | $ 386 |
|-----|-----------------------|---------|
| 350 | Truck licenses | 933 |
| 100 | Peddler licenses | 796 |
| | Old junk licenses | 100 |
| | Auctioneers' licenses | 560 |
| | Night Carts | 108 |
| | Plumbers | 180 |
| | Total license fees | $3,063 |
| | Common rents | 276 |
| | City property | 1,012 |

INSPECTOR OF LICENSES.

Another official, collecting civic revenue, is the Inspector of Licenses. He collects, (1) Fees for liquor license applicants deposit when the license is applied for. The applications are not numbered consecutively. (2) The license fee. (3) Fines and penalties. His total collections for the year ending December 31st, 1892, were $11,830, as follows :

| Application fees | 1,200 |
|------------------|--------|
| Licenses | 10,270 |
| Fines | 360 |

We found a number of irregularities in the Inspector's books and accounts. He has no stated time for paying his collections over to the Treasurer. He frequently pays himself his salary from moneys on hand without reference to the Treasurer, Auditor or Mayor. Upon reference to the Treasurer's books (on the 12th June) we find no record of any salary paid Mr. Mackasey between December 16th, 1892, and May 6th, 1893, a d in the latter instance the payment for the month appears to be in advance.

Mr. Mackasey also appears to construct and pay accounts upon his own responsibility, without reference to the Mayor or Auditor. We found the accounts of many expenditures neither audited nor certified

The cash book was audited up to December 11th, 1892, but not checked off from the application and licenses granted book. Thus, there was nothing to show that the receipts were in keeping with the licenses granted. From December 15th, 1892, to the 12th June, 1893, no entry had been made in the cash book, though between those dates about $10,000 had been received by Mr. Mackasey, but not entered in the cash or any other book. He had merely made a memo on the bonds and had deposited the balance not expended with the treasurer. There had not been an entry of expenses in any book in the Inspector's office for a period of six months, though he had receipts on hand purporting to show an expenditure of $600 or $700 during that period. Those accounts had neither been audited nor certified. One receipt read as follows:

"J. A. MACKASEY,

(Sd.)

C. W. SMITH."

Please pay City Marshal $10 on my account.

Feb. 23rd, 1893.

This document does not specify what the services were for, nor did it show that the Marshal received the $10. When the inspector pays himself his own salary, he sometimes files a receipt. The fines for violations of the law are entered in the City Clerk's general report book, and in a report book kept by the inspector, but there is nothing to show that they are collected, except the entries are marked "paid." In other words, the magistrate may impose $5,000 in fines during the year, and Mr. Mackasey's books may only show $500 collected. There is no audit or anything else to show why the $4,500 was not collected—or if collected, what became of it. Mr. Mackasey, under the act has absolute control of the collection of all liquor license fees and fines, and also disburses the money apparently without any supervision, and keeps his books and accounts in a very unbusiness like manner. We instructed him to enter up all his receipts and expenditnees, to certify all accounts, and have them properly audited before being paid.

THE CITY CLERK'S DEPARTMENT.

The City Clerk is a collector of city revenue. He collects the fines and fees in the Police and Civil Court, the dog tax, and exhibition and show license fees. Mr. Trenaman has three assistants. The work of the City Clerk's office has about doubled in recent years. Nevertheless, the same system, or rather want of system, in the division of the work and in the running of the department prevails that has been in operation for a quarter of a centuary. There is no proper method. Each of the four officials does a little of all the work of the office, and the head of the department, at $1,200 a year, does a large amount of purely routine and clerical work that could be just as well done by a girl at $250. Mr. Trenaman should appoint the work of his subordinates, and see that each does his work; he should be the superintendent, and instead of spending a portion of his time on mere routine, should devote himself to the more profitable work of being the right-hand man of the Mayor, and the second most important official in the civic employ.

Mr. Monaghan is nominally clerk of the Police and Civil Courts and these duties absord the largest portion of his time, though the others give general assistance. This division of the work necessitates the keeping of five books—(1) petty cash, (2) process b ok, (3) docket book, (4) judgment book, (5) record of judgment fees. The City Clerk collects the fees for summonses, writs and executions, etc., and daily pays over to the Marshal his proportion of the same, according to the following ratio:

| For | Clerk. | Marshal. | Total |
|-----------|--------|----------|--------|
| Summons | | $0 35 | $0 75 |
| Execution | | 0 35 | 0 55 |
| Capias | 0 70 | 0 35 | 1 05 |
| Judgment | 1 00 | | 1 00 |

The balance retained by the clerk, together with other petty collections, he deposits weekly with the Halifax Banking Company, where he keeps a special account, and on the first of each month draws a cheque against this account and deposits the same with the City Treasurer. The writs are served by the Police. The Clerk delivers them to the Marshal with his proportion of the fees, the Marshal hands them to the Chief of Police or the sergeants, they to the policemen, and the documents finds their way into the hands of the people for whom they were intended, after this lengthy journey through red tape.

In the Police Record Book the clerk enters all the fines imposed in the Police Court. But in the case of liquor licence fines, for instance, he does not know if they are ever collected or if the alternative (imprisonment) is inflicted. That is a matter for the License Inspector, who may or may not collect the fines—the City Clerk's book contains no record of the final result. This record book may show thousands of dollars imposed in fines and not one dollar collected.

An instance of waste of time is the signing of warrants by the City Clerk and his record of the same. Fifty years ago the law provided that the City Clerk should sign warrants on the Treasurer for the payment of accounts. The (lerk still does so, though he knows no more about the correctness of the accounts or whether they should be paid or not, than the man in the moon. He merely does it as a matter of form; but this useless piece of red tape necessiates the Clerk's keeping two books, and involves the waste of much valuable time.

THE CITY MARSHAL.

The protion of fees received daily from the City Clerk by the Marshal, the Marshal deposits in his cash box, and after keeping the same carefully for three months, he nays them over to the Treasurer. But there is no check to show that the receipts of the clerk tallies with the documents he issued, or that the amount paid to the Treasurer tallies with the amount received by the Marshal from the Clerk.

THE CITY TREASURER.

Your Committee made a careful examination of the books, etc., of the City Treasurer. That Official gives a receipt for all moneys received (except cemetery, which is a special account,) the counterpart of which is entered on the stub. This stub has not been audited since 1884. From the stubs the receipts are posted into the cash books into the ledgers. A monthly statement of receipts and expenditures compared by the Auditor with the cash book is submitted to the Council.

The Treasurers books are not balanced for four years. They cannot be balanced sooner, as the lien law does not operate until the taxes are three years in arrears, and it takes about a year to place the lien law in operation. The law provides that a complete set of books shall be opened up, for each and every year, in which the receipts and expenditures of that year shall be entered.

The receipt of water rates, and expenditures for construction and maintenance, is a separate department, and involves the opening and keeping of a duplicate set of cash books, ledgers, etc., for each year.

Thus, if John Jones pays his three years taxes a 'd water rates to-day, there will be eleven entries made in the cash books, ledgers, etc., of those departments in the collector's office. The collector pays the same to the Treasurer to the credit of taxes and water for the respective years, and the same is entered by the Treasurer—not in one common cash book, with columns ruled for the different years but in the six separate cash books for these years. Thus, any one desiring to ascertain the Treasurer's receipts on a given day, must consult not one, but six different books. The large amount of clerical work and the pos ibilities for mistakes, will be apparent to the most obtuse. This also imposes a great deal of unnecessary labor on the auditor. In the middle of June, a large proportion of the entries in the Treasurer's cash book for 1891-92, was not audited, and the cash book was not audited for 1891. Similar neglect was apparent in the audit of other books.

The system of borrowing from unexpended balances, or any other available fund, to pay pressing demands, is a very pernicious one; wrong in principle, and bad in practice; and liable to lead to much confusion in the accounts, and other blunders.

In 1891-2 the sum of $2,500, was borrowed from unexpended balances for health purposes. In 1892-3 that sum was assessed for to be returned, but instead of being returned it was taken to pay another "over expenditure," and to this day the $2,500, is still owing the unexpended balance fund; so that were it not for this elastic fund, the city might have been saved some thousands of dollars.

Not only does the Treasurer keep a separate set of books for each year for both general civic and water purposes, but he also keeps separate bank accounts for each year for those departments, besides a number of special accounts.

Deposits are made daily and are sent to the Bank by a Policeman. Sometimes (Especially when loans are received) tens of thousands of dollars will be sent to the bank at a time, and it is exceedingly fortunate, that our policemen, as well as other officials, are honest men. On June 15th, 1893, the bank books showed balances at the credit of the various years as follows :

| To May 31st, 1889 | Ş | 575 | 26 | |
|---|---|-------|----|--|
| 'To May 31st, 1890 | | 3,884 | | |
| To May 31st, 1891 | | 5,587 | 43 | |
| To May 31st, 1892 | | 3,451 | 00 | |
| To May 31st, 1893 |] | 1,271 | 92 | |
| as halos of halos have have here here here here here here here he | | 5.0 | | |

These balances were of taxes and general revenue.

There are two bank books for the water department, and there was $71,821.02 on hand at this date (June 13th,) as follows :

| Maintenance account | $29,637 | 21 | |
|--------------------------|-----------|----|--|
| Construction | 11,478 | 80 | |
| New Pipe Line | 33,879 | 40 | |
| Cheques issued, not paid | 9,408 | | |
| Petty Cash | 1,104 | 31 | |
| | 0.0000000 | | |

The special deposits included :

1. Police Superannuation Fund, to May 31st, 1893, bearing interest at 31 per cent., $6,697.65.

This account necessitates a special set of books.

2. Temporary deposits for opening streets sewers, etc., to May 31st, $1,075.91. This is a new account. These moneys ($5 deposit for permit to break streets) were formerly received at the office of the Board of Works and mixed with other moneys there, and was the principal cause of the financial muddle in that department. These deposits are now made with the treasurer, and necessitate the keeping of a set of five books, (1) stub receipt book, (2) cash, (3) ledger, (4) bank book, (5) cheque for paying back the deposits.
3. D. Y. Stewart & Co., security for water pipe contract, deposit receipt, $6,000.

Sinking Fund, $18,252.

This fund was established to pay off the old floating debt of $100,000 incurred by loss of taxes previous to the lien law of 1883. It now amounts to $41,752.16. Of the balance, $7,500 is invested in debentures and $16,000 in 5 per cent. stock.

Common Commutation Fund, $1,634.79.

This is the proceeds of the sale of common lots on a 99 year lease, the interest of which goes to the support of the Gardens.

6. Gardiner Bonds, $1,168.00.

This is a special deposit in the Merchant's Bank, at four per cent. and was subscribed by the Public for the support of the widow of Policeman Gardiner, killed on an American vessel in the harbor in the discharge of his duty, the interest of which is paid Mrs. Gardiner. There is another sum of $200 on deposit in the Savings' Bank, also to the credit of the City. The Mayor and Treasurer are the trustees. At the death of Mrs. Gardiner, the principal goes to her Grandchild.

7. Proceeds sale old City Market Building, $20,200.00.

Cemetery-special deposit, $1,484.24. S.

9. Harbor Championship, 5 p. c. stock, $1,000.00.

This sum was left to the city by Dr. Chas. Cogswell, and the interest so appropriated for the championship belt. 10. "Bank Book, No. 10," balance of consolidated fund, $1,715.71.

This appears to have been the balance of premiums received from loans when city debentures sold at a premium. Instead of the premium being applied to the purposes for which the money was borrowed (in which case a lesser amount would be required to be borrowed,) it has been used for general or special purposes, has in effect been another contingent account.

Your committee have traced this item down through a series of years to 1892. when, on the 14th of June, the apparent total sum received for premiums to that date, $8,286.54, was transferred to and swallowed up in the general account. This appears to have been done by order of the Mayor. Since that date, the sum of $1,725.71, above noted, has been received, and is still on hand. Thus a total of $10,000 has been unnecessarily added to the debt of the city.

On the 1st of June, the Treasurer had a balance in the bank on general account of $24,763. Of this sum the balances for 1889, 1890 and 1891, $10,040 would be transferred to "unexpended balances" account, and should be used—as it was intended to be used-for reducing the taxes of the next year, but which is largely used to pay liabilities that would not be incurred were it not for the existence of this fund. He had also a balance of $71,821 for water, interest and construction, or a total for general city and water expenditure of $96,500.

He also had on special deposits the sum of $100,970. The only record we found of some of these amounts was the bank book or the special deposit receipt.

There was no entry in any ledger for instance, of the $29,200 proceeds of the sale of the old city market building.

All these special accounts should be entered in a miscellaneous ledger, or in the general ledger of the year, and carried forward to the next year; and all these special amounts should form the subject of an annual report to the council from the Treasurer.

We find the books of the treasurer not properly written up, balanced, or regularly or systematically audited. We don't say that this is the fault of Mr. Thompson, whom we believe to be a conscientious, honest, painstaking and thoroughly reliable official, but his office hours are only from 10 to 4, and it is impossible for any man to perform the duties of the Treasurer, do the amount of clerical work necessary, and properly keep the elaborate set of books for each year within the prescribed hours.

THE POORS' ASYLUM.

Your committee have not made any investigation of the books and accounts of the Charities Committee. That committee claims to be a semi-independent body. But we understand that the books and accounts kept at the Poor House have never been audited since the institution came under the control of the city, and that many thousands of dollars have been annually lost to the city through the neglect of the officials and the committee to make proper efforts to collect moneys that should be contributed to the maintenance of inmates from relatives legally responsible and well able to pay. This will probably form the subject of a special report from the Chairman of the Charities Committee.

THE BOARD OF WORKS,

Neither have your committee made any investigation into the books and accounts of the Board of Works. That duty is supposed to be done by the present Board and Mayor under a resolution of Council.

Your committee, however, deem it their duty to call the attention of the Council to the fact that all moneys expended by the Board of Works, which, during the past two or three years aggregates between $200,000 and $300,000 per annum, are drawn from the City Treasurer upon the " requisition " of the Chairman and Clerk of the Board. Upon receiving that requisition, the Mayor, Clerk and Auditor sign "warrants" to the Treasurer to pay over the amount demanded.

NOVEMBER 8th, 1893.

The money is paid to the Clerk of Works by cheque, and by him deposited in the Peoples' Bank, where the Board of Works has a special account of its own, independent of all the other numerous city bank accounts. The money is then at the absolute disposal of the Chairman and Clerk. This system makes it possible for a chairman and a clerk to act in collusion and to divert civic moneys to their own uses. Or a chairman having perfect confidence in a clerk, may sign cheques in blank on this account, and thus place the deposit at the sole disposal of a clerk ; or a clerk desiring a month's holiday, may sign blank cheques and thus leave the moneys in hand in the undisputed control of a chairman. The auditor gets no voncher for the payment of moneys thus drawn by the board. The only thing that official or any other official outside the Board has to show for the expenditure is the "requisition." The moneys thus referred to are principally drawn for labor—by far the largest item of expenditure by the Board. Accounts duly passed by the Board and certified by the Chairman and Clerk are paid in the usual way.

THE WATER DEPARTMENT.

The expenditure for the Water Department now reaches over $70,000 a year, and this is very largely, if not absolutely, in the control of the Chairman and Clerk of Works. T'ere is no audit of the expenditures. The usual piece of red tape of getting the Auditor to sign the "warrant" is not even complied with; and the Auditor knows nothing about the expenditure for water until after the bills are paid.

There does not appear to be any system on the part of the Auditor, the Board or any other official, whereby the actual cost of any work is compared with the estimated cost and the excess or decrease reported to the Council. The explanation of this anomaly is that the unlimited powers of the old board of water commissioners were transferred over twenty years ago to the Board of Works, and there has been no change since.

THE CITY AUDITOR.

The duties of City Auditor are vague and indefinate. When a warrant is drawn he signs it, certifying that there is enough money in the appropriation to pay the account. This appears to be a senseless form, because if the money is not provided and in hand it could not be paid. For instance, John Smith has an account of $5; the bill is passed by the Committee, signed by the Chairman, sent to the City Clerk, and railroaded through the Council. The Clerk draws out a warrant and enters it in his two books, though he knows nothing about it. Then the clerk pins the warrant to the bill and sends it by a policeman to John Smith. Next afternoon John Smith comes to the City Hall, finds the Auditor in the middle of checking a column of figures in the Treasurer's books, and the Auditor leaves this important work to hunt up his books and see if there is $5 to the same up in his books against the appropriatior. Next day Smith again comes to the City Hall at noon and gets the Mayor to sign the warrant. Then he goes to the Treasurer and files the warrant and receipt as a voucher. John Smith next goes to the bank and gets his $5 in cash

The Auditor's books are thus a duilicate of those of the Treasurer; but they do not compare for several reasons. In the first place, the Auditor has not the time to keep them promptly posted and balanced. In the next place, the Auditor's duplicate books show a larger expenditure than the Treasurer's in a given year. Here is an instance: for the year 1889-40 the Treasurer's books, according to the published report, showed $11,232 paid for street lighting. The Auditor's books show the payment to have been $12,210. The reason of this was that $977 was paid after the Treasurer's report of the year's expenditure was made. It was not charged to the next year in the Treasurer's books and the payment thereof never appears in the published annual report.

The Treasurer reports an expenditure of $8,057 for the Fire Department in 1890-91, while the actual expenditure, according to the Auditor's books was

$9,440. For the year ending April 30th, 1892, the following discrepancies in these "duplicate books" appears in the expenditures :—

| Item. | Treasurer's report. | Auditor's books. |
|-----------------|---------------------|------------------|
| Police | $ 24,375 | $ 27,481 |
| Fire Department | 10,030 | 10,358 |
| Internal Health | | 16,196 |
| Gas City Hall | 636 | 874 |
| Street Lighting | 15,449 | 16,657 |
| Poors' Asylum | 23,133 | 24,376 |
| Paving Streets | 46,612 | 53,702 |
| Total | $139,558 | $149,644 |
| A difference of | | 10.086 |

For the year ending April 30th, 1893, the estimated expenditure for general purposes was $134,100. The actual expenditure, according to the Auditor, was $147,336, while the Treasurers report only Shows $138,180. Thus the actual expenditure exceeded the estimate in this year by $13,236, and was really $9,156 greater than was shown in the Treasurer's report.

Your Committee merely note these discrepancies to show that the supposed duplicate set of books are not duplicates, and that there is annually a large expenditure of money that never appears in the published reports. Beyond recording these discrepancies, there oppears to be no necessity for the Auditor to keep a set of books, and if the actual expenditures were reported by the Treasurer, we think that the Auditor's time could be much more profitably employed in auditing the books of the officials.

3. The \triangle uditor prepares the annual report at d supervises its publication, and the estimates for the year. This takes up a large share of his time.

4. The balance of his time is devoted to and ting the books of the various departments, and, from the facts shown in this report, he is utterly unable to overtake the work.

A REMEDY FOR SOME OF THE EVILS.

Having submitted the above as some specimens of what your committee found in the course of their investigation, we feel it incumbent upon us to make recommendations which we believe will remedy some of the evils of the present system, do away with a large quantity of absurd red tapeism, save a great deal of time, simplify the work of the department, make it more efficient and satisfactory to both the officials and the citizens, and at the same time will not add one dollar to, if it does not reduce, the expenditure.

ONE FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

1. There are many firms and institutions in the city handling larger sums of money annually than the revenue of the City of Halifax, but not one of them perpertrates the folly and reckless extravagance of paying a dozen cashiers to do the work of one. The revenue of the City of Halifax, however, is collected by the following staff, each a head of a department and each under bond for his good behaviour, making it necessary to citizens to visit half a dozen or more offices in the same building to pay their money, and involving the keeping of many unnecessary sets of books:

A. The City Collector and staff of five assistants. His collections this year will aggregate $455,000, as follows:

| City taxes | $357,323 | |
|--------------------------|-----------|---|
| City water rates | | 2 |
| Sewerage rates | | |
| Permanent pavement rates | 5,843 | |
| | | |

2. The Clerk of License, another head of department in the Collector's office, who collects truck and old junk licenses, etc., to the extent of $4,000, and is paid a salary of $550, or 15 per cent. of the amount coll cted.

The City Clerk, whose petty collections of auctioneers, show and other licenses, part of the court fees, etc., reaches $ a year and involves the keeping of an independent bank account.
 The Inspector of Licenses, who collected liquor licenses and fines (formerly formerly for

4. The Inspector of Licenses, who collected liquor licenses and fines (formerly paid to the Clerk of Licenses) to the extent of $11,000 a year at a cost of 9 per cent. for collection.

5. The City Treasurer, who collects deposits for breaking streets, etc.

6. The City Marshal, who rece ves a proportion of the court fees from the City Clerk daily.

7. The Clerk of the Board of Health makes certain petty collections.

8. The pound keepers-we find do record of their collections.

9. The Clerk of the Board of Works who receives money for materials sold or for work done by the Board at the expense of the citizens.

10. The Superintendent of the Poors' Asylum, the Clerk of Charities, the Chief of Police, etc.

If the City Collector can be trusted to collect \$455,000 a year and does it at a cost of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, he can also certainly be intrusted with the collection of the balance of \$23,000 or \$24,000 now collected by the other petty cashiers. Thus the responsibility would be centered on one head of a department in one office instead of being scattered among a dozen, and this could be done without any extra expense (it may be noted as a matter of fact that the City Collector's department costs the city less now than it did seven years ago). And we would suggest that the working of the Collector's office be so systemized that only one official should be receiving cashier.

We recommend that after the end of the civic year all civic revenue (other than hereinafter stated) be paid into the City Collector's office, and that any necessary changes in legislation to carry out this recommendation be applied for at the coming session of the Legislature.

2. The office of the Treasurer, if not in theCollector's department, should be as convenient to it as possible. At the present time swo large rooms adjoining the Collector's department are set aside for the use of the Mayor. The Mayor only occupies his office one hour a day, and cannot possibly use both rooms. We recommend that the Treasurer's office be removed to that now accupied by the Mayor, and that the one at present unused as the Mayor's private office, be converted to general use by His Worship. It is all important that the chief executive officer of the city should be in constant communication with the Treasurer; that he should have personal knowledge of the general condition of the finances and of the state of the Treasurer's books, etc., and have a grip on the whole finance department. This can easily be accomplished by carrying out this suggestion, and to the great convenience of both the Mayor, the Treasurer, and all others concerned.

3. We call attention to the fact that the remuneration of the City Treasurer of Halifax, handling between half and three quarters of a million dollars annually and frequently having $200,000 or more under his control at a time, is less than that given to the janitor of the City Hall. Mr. Thompson's actual salary is only $1000 a year. For this remuneration he not only handles $600,000 or $700.000 of of city moneys, but attempts to keep an elaborate set of 15 or 20 books. It is no wonder that those books are not properly pested or balanced, and consequently not audited. The Treasurer has far more clerical work than he can do in office hours, and to properly do his work he ought to be given assistance. We recommend that the Treasurer keep one general cash book, with columns

We recommend that the Treasurer keep one general cash book, with columns in which shall be entered the taxes or other receipts for the various years and services, instead of being entered in half a dozen or more different cash books, as now, so that all his daily receipts will be entered in one book, and the amount and to what years or services credited may be seen at a glance.

That instead of having ten or twelve bank accounts, the Treasurer shall keep but one general bank account and one special deposit account; that the amount to the credit of each fund shall be kept balanced; that no cheque shall be drawn against any fund or appropriation unless the ledger shows there is money in fund; and that a report of all payments on account of any fund or appropriation and the balance on hand, certified by the Auditor, shall be made to the Council at the first of each month; and a summary report immediately after the close of the civic year.

That instead of making payments at all hours of the day and every day in the week, there shall be one day, say Monday, for the payment of all civic moneys, except perhaps interest by coupons, which, if not paid on the day due, shall also be paid on the civic pay day. This would save the Treasurer a large amount of worry and time, and be a gr at convenience to all concerned.

That the Treasurer be instructed to send his deposits to the bank by a more responsible official than a policeman.

 \hat{T} at the office of Clerk of License as a separate head of department be abolished; that the City Collector be appointed Clerk of License, without extra salary, and that the present Clerk of License be retained in the civic employ as a clerk.

That the present haphazard method of doing the work of the City Clerk's department be systematized; that all the work of the office relating to the records, reports and correspondence of the Council and City generally be supervised and attended to by the City Clerk and Mr. Nisbet; that all the duties of the Clerk of the Police and City Civil Courts, the keeping of the records, the making out of writs, summons, and other legal documents and the collection of all fines and fees be attended to by Mr. Monaghan and Mr. Hamilton; and when not engaged in the duties of the Police and Civil Courts, clerks Monaghan and Hamilton render assistance required to the City Clerk.

That all fees and fines collected by the Clerk of the Court be paid over to the Treasurer every Saturday, and that the whole amount of fees for writs, etc., be paid direct by the Clerk to the Treasurer, instead of one-half direct monthly and the other half by the round-about way of the City Marshal every three months.

That all writs and other legal documents issued by the Clerk of the Court be numbered consecutively, and that the numbers be entered on the duplicate stubs and in other records for the purpose of convenience. That the office of the Clerk of the Court and his assistant be in the room now

That the office of the Clerk of the Court and his assistant be in the room now occupied as an office by the Stipendiary Magistrate, the Stipendiary using the room now occupied as a private office. This arrangement would be a great convenience to both the Stipendiary and the clerks, and would centre the legal and the court department in adjoining offices, and at the same time afford the City Clerk enough room in which to turn around in his office.

That hereafter all moneys received as premiums on loans be devoted to the purposes for which the loan is made, and only the amount actually required be borrowed; and in case of a loan under par, that the full sum required be borowed.

That hereafter a l payments by the Board of Works be made upon properly certified accounts, through the Auditor and Treasurer, as other civic payments.

The Auditor should be the principal man in the city's finance department. At present the law only permits the Auditor to be figure head. Mr. Bell docs his duty to the best of his ability, but instead of being a real auditor of the city's accounts and finances, he is mearly a checker. It is not necessary for the Auditor to keep a set of books. The books of each department should speak for themselves, and the Auditor should be held responsible for having them properly kept, and for their regular and thorough audit. To do this efficiently he should be independent as to position and salary. At the present time, the only "audit" of an account by the Auditor is to "certify that there is enough money in the appropriation" to pay the amount already duly certified by the chairman and passed by Council. In the opinion of your committee, the Auditor should not certify any account for payment, unless (a) the money has been provided, (b) that the money is in fund, (c) that the account is properly chargeable to that fund, (d) and that the account has been properly contracted and is duly certified by the proper official; and unless so satisfied in these points, the Auditor shall refuse to certify the account. Warrants for payment should hereafter be signed by the Mayor and Auditor (who has thus made himself familiar with the account) instead of the City Clerk, and this would save a lot of red tape, save the City Clerk useless work, and symplify and systematize the work of the Auditor. Armed with such powers as these, the Auditor would be able to refuse to sign warrants for the payment of moneys upon the order of ex-eldermen and other citizens, which was recently done, in spite of the refusal of the Council to authorize the same. He would also be able to refuse to sanction the payment of $1,000 to the Board of Works out of "sewerage" and "water" funds, as was done last year in violation of law.

NOVEMBER 8th, 1893.

In view of the vastly increased expenditures of the city, now aggregating a half million a year, and of the absolute need of a thorough audit of the details of receipts and expenditures, and of an auditor who will supervise the opening and keeping of the books of the various departments, and systematically audit the same; and in view of the fact that Mr. Bell is unable to undertake the greatly increased work of the city in this respect, we recommend that Mr. W. L. Brown clerk of the water department, be made Assistant Auditor. Mr. Brown has been for many years familiar with the receipts and expenditures of the city, and is well qualified for the duties.

In consideration of being relieved of the larger portion of his work and responsibilities, Mr. Bell's salary should be correspondingly decreased, and the balance of his present salary, together with what would be saved by the appointment of a new water clerk, would pay Mr. Brown's full salary. The duties of the position could be clearly defined so that there would be no clashing. Thus, while no injustice would be done Mr. Bell, the city would have a thorough system of audit, and be assured that its books and accounts were properly kept, without adding one dollar to the expenditure.

That hereafter all he civic offices be open to the public from 9.30 to 5 o'clock, and that all clerks be subject to the instructions of the head of their depar.ment.

LOCATION OF TELEPHONE POLES, CUNARD STREET AND GOTTINGEN STREET.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 13th, 1893.

Chairman Board of Works:

SR,-The accompanying Minutes of Council having been referred to me, I beg to report:

The Telephone Company obtained permission from the Council to place three poles on the south side of Cunard Street. One of them was located at the corner of Gottingen Street. It appears to be in the best location. It cannot be moved farther up the hill without cutting off the service on Gottingen Street south of Cunard Street. If it is moved down the hill it will obstruct the crossings. The poles could not be placed on the north side as there is an old drain under the edge of the sidewalk.

WATER EXTENSION NORTH STREET.

November 13th, 1893.

Chairman Board of Works :

Sir,—In reference to the accompanying petition for water extension on North Street, I beg to report that the proposed extension would be on the high service. There is no building erected, but the foundation is taken out and the revenue will probably pay the interest. I would recommend that the extension be made, provided a bond be given, as there is no guarantee until the building is up.
